ST. LOUIS, MO – Momentum in the case for legally valid elections seems to be building. In a palpable shift, state representatives and their staffs are demonstrating a new openness to United Sovereign Americans' (USA) core message about election validity and the urgent need to address egregious election violations.

On Tuesday, February 25, 2025, 184 USA volunteers in 11 states met with more than 200 state representatives and staff members, presenting USA's audit of official state election data. The response was overwhelmingly positive, with bipartisan engagement and clear potential for action.

USA, the first organization to measure election misconduct as defined in criminal law, has conducted forensic audits of federal election data in 21 states. In just seven of those states—California, Illinois, New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Georgia—its 2022 audit uncovered:

- 22 million non-compliant voter registrations
- 7 million votes cast by these registrations, suspected to be unlawful
- 1.4 million more votes counted than voters who voted

Preliminary 2024 data suggests the pattern is similar, and in many cases even worse than 2022, reinforcing the urgent need for action.

"This [Advocacy Day] initiative was a resounding success," said Marly Hornik, CEO of USA. "The engagement we saw from lawmakers—on both sides of the aisle—shows that the tide is turning. There is growing recognition that our elections require urgent, systemic fixes."

As part of its ongoing strategy to secure legally valid elections nationwide, USA volunteers urged lawmakers to:

- Investigate election misconduct uncovered in USA's forensic audits
- Sponsor legislation to ensure real votes, real voters, real counts, and real proof in the 2026 midterms and beyond

The genuine interest from lawmakers has resulted in follow-up meetings that are already being scheduled as USA prepares to present draft legislation requiring transparency, authenticity, and real-time audits, monitoring, and compliance.
